Key Note Speech to be delivered by Dr Kathy Weston

Engaging Parents to Empower Families: an evidence-based approach

Criminologist and education researcher, Dr Kathy Weston will discuss how schools and providers can support families in poverty or working families in poverty. She will address the "why" as well as the "how"; reflecting on optimal ways of engaging and getting parents 'onboard' to strategies for building parental confidence and knowledge when it comes to engaging with children's lives and learning. She will also focus on resilience in general; the importance of sustaining attendees' resilience and how professionals can nurture a resilient mindset and outlook within the families that they work with. Attendees will feel inspired, empowered and motivated to continue their great work after hearing this keynote address.

Workshop 1 - Dr Kathy Weston

Engaging parents, carers and families: how is it for you?

In this workshop, Dr Weston will encourage attendees to reflect on 'what works' when it comes to engaging parents, carers and families, identify areas where they may be struggling and then discuss a range of evidence-based ideas that can be 'tried and applied' in practice. Attendees will also be encouraged to think about how they will evaluate any ideas that they implement. How is success measured? How can they best capture what they do effectively?
